Fire Chief Development Program

(Cost of this class is $ 50.00)

This program will provide a relevant educational advancement for both existing and newly appointed chief officers, as well as their designated second in command in career and volunteer departments across the state. This program is designed to target new and existing chief officers that will most likely serve in a chief officer role in the future.

The curriculum will be a dynamic program of specific topics. At this year's conference, the following categories will be addressed:

Budgeting: How to develop an effective operating budget.

Customer Service: Develop your most valuable resource, your personnel.

Technology in Emergency Services: How to use software to manage your Department.

Legal Issues: Current legal topics in fire and emergencies services.

This program is being submitted to the Tennessee Commission on Fire Fighting for approval.

The location of this class will be at the Pigeon Forge Community Center. You must call 865-654-5810 to get a pre-approval authorization number and include the number on this registration form.

Firefighter Survival: "Get Out Alive!"

(This class is limited to 30 students)

(Cost of this class is $ 50.00)

Pre-requisites: Students must have already attended and completed the 58 hour Basic Fire Fighting Course and the 22 hour Live Fire Fighting Course to be eligible to attend this class. Attendees must call 865-654-5810 to get a pre-approval authorization number and include the number on this registration form.

Class Description:

The fireground is more dangerous than ever before! Firefighters are dying during structural fire incidents at an alarming rate. The use of lightweight construction methods, energy conservation, the increase of fuel loading and the unprepared / untrained firefighter are combining to form a deadly combination. This course is designed to prepare the firefighter for the unique dangers of the modern day fireground. Students will learn from real world incidents in which firefighters were killed in the line of duty while operating at structure fires. The course will test the students both mentally and physically.

Executive Skills Series: Leading Diverse Communities Beyond Conflict
(ESS:LDCBC)

(This is a 15 hour course and the cost is $ 50.00)

(This class is limited to 30 students)

(This course is limited to 3 officers per department)

This course is a direct in-state delivery through and by the National Fire Academy. The Goal of this course is to provide senior executives in fire and emergency services organizations with information, perspectives, and tools for taking action to harmonize the diversities within their work and stakeholder communities. This course will be a springboard for forming and launching plans of action. It will break new ground in addressing fire service culture and challenges, while providing tools for fire service leaders in a complex society. Finally, the course will help participants mobilize support and identify resources for making a difference. This course is intended to be "launchpad" for action projects that participants will undertake when returning to their jobs. The energy of this course focuses on defining projects and ensuring their success. The participants need to become a support system for each other. This course is a design workshop, a strategy and tactics session, and a rehearsal of the personal, social, political, and professional dynamics that participants must master to accomplish their projects. The National Fire Academy will award certificates of successful completion only upon submission of the action plan.

Student Selection Criteria: The course is directed to senior fire executives. This is consistent with other ESS courses and the resident Executive Fire Officer Program (EFOP). The curriculum acknowledges the diversity of fire service organizations (paid, volunteer, combination) and therefore is applicable to all fire/emergency services organizations. You must call 865-654-5810 to get a pre-approval authorization number and include the number on this registration form.
